How did the Fund perform during the reporting period?

The performance of the Fund over the reporting period was driven primarily by higher returns of the SP 500 and, to a lesser extent, by a modest decline in yields on the short end of the curve. Markets are currently pricing in some additional rate cuts by the Fed and a relatively bullish outcome for the SP 500 given potential drag from high yields, among other market concerns. The Fund continues to aim to mitigate downside risk while participating in upward moves.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, the Fund's investment strategy resulted in performance in line with manager expectations.
