FUND OBJECTIVE

The Fund's objective is current income.

INVESTMENT STRATEGY

- The Fund seeks to achieve its investment objective by primarily investing in Structured Credit within Fixed Income, with a focus in non-agency residential mortgage-backed securities (RMBS). The Fund expects to invest over 25% of its assets in non-agency RMBS.
- In seeking relative value, the Fund may also invest in other asset-backed securities, including securities backed by commercial real estate, aircraft, automobiles, credit card receivables, and student loans.
- The Fund seeks to mitigate the potential for credit loss by investing in senior securities or mezzanine tranches with high credit enhancement relative to delinquencies.
- The portfolio also consists of a small allocation of agency interest-only securities to hedge against interest rate risks.
- The Fund generally distributes to shareholders substantially all of its net income monthly.

30-DAY SEC YIELDS

Share Class	Subsidized	Unsubsidized
Class I	8.39%	7.94%
Class A	7.76%	7.33%
Class C	7.37%	6.92%

SEC Yield calculated according to SEC form N-1A. As of December 31, 2024. The 30-Day Yield represents net investment income earned by the Fund over the 30-day period ending 12/31/2024, expressed as an annual percentage rate based on the Fund's share price at the end of the 30-day period.

The Catalyst Enhanced Income Strategy Fund seeks to generate current income via investments in often overlooked segments of non-agency residential mortgage backed securities (RMBS) and other fixed income asset-backed securities.

Primary Goals & Key Reasons to Invest

High Current Income: The Fund distributes current income monthly.

Seeks Best Risk/Return Opportunity: The Fund offers relative value within Fixed Income by seeking investment opportunities in Structured Credit, in particular, legacy non-agency RMBS. The Fund favors undervalued investments that have the potential for consistent returns in most interest rate environments. The Fund has consistently outperformed the benchmark, the Bloomberg U.S. Agg. Bond TR Index. See the performance table below.

The Fund's returns in the first quarter of 2019 may not be achievable going forward as the fund's AUM grow. The active trading strategy of the Fund had a significant impact on returns from launch date, especially when depicted as a percentage. The gains from individual trades had a magnified effect on NAV as a result of the small initial launch capital. As the AUM grows, the denominator becomes larger and thus, individual trades do not necessarily have as much of an impact on returns. We continue to deploy our active trading approach, which seeks to take advantage of market inefficiencies and dislocations. However, with the recent significant growth in AUM, we have been busy putting new money to work, resulting in lower turnover.

Glossary:

Bloomberg US Aggregate Bond Index: A market capitalization-weighted index that is designed to measure the performance of the U.S. investment grade bond market with maturities of more than one year.

Effective Duration: Provides a measure of a fund's interest rate sensitivity; the higher the value of a fund's duration, the more sensitive the fund is to shifts in interest rates.

Risk Considerations:

Past performance is not a guarantee of future results.

Investors should carefully consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses of the Catalyst Funds. Investing in the Fund carries certain risks. The value of the Fund may decrease in response to the activities and financial prospects of an individual security in the Fund's portfolio. Investors in the Fund bear the risk that the Fund may not be successful in implementing its investment strategies. When the Fund invests in asset-backed securities and mortgage-backed securities, the Fund is subject to the risk that, if the underlying borrowers fail to pay interest or repay principal, the assets backing these securities may not be sufficient to support payments on the securities. Interest rate risk is the risk that bond prices overall, including the prices of securities held by the Fund, will decline over short or even long periods of time due to rising interest rates. Bonds with longer maturities tend to be more sensitive to interest rates than bonds with shorter maturities. Lower-quality bonds, known as "high yield" or "junk" bonds, present greater risk than bonds of higher quality, including an increased risk of default. Credit risk is the risk that the issuer of a security will not be able to make principal and interest payments when due. These factors may affect the value of your investment.
